Browse by Subject: Science, Social Studies, Mathematics, English Language Arts, Engineering & Technology

Browse by Grade: PreK, Early Elementary, Upper Elementary

Type search criteria into the search textboxes available on the homepage or from any subpage on the PBS LearningMedia site.

- Search results appear in the center of the page and the total number of results appear in the upper left side of the search results
- You can drill down the search results by using the filters on the left side of the page

The screenshot shows a search interface for the word "poetry". At the top left, the search term "poetry" is entered in a search bar. To the right of the search bar is a blue "Search" button with a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar, on the left side, is a filter panel. The "Grade" filter is expanded, showing a grid of radio buttons for grades from PreK to 13+. The "Subject" filter is also expanded, showing a red box around the "+ Subject" option. Other filter options include "Resource Type", "Language", "Accessibility", and "Additional Features". In the center of the page, a red box highlights the text "674 search results" with a small red "2.1" next to it. To the right of this text is a "Sort by" dropdown menu set to "Relevance". Below this, two search results are displayed. The first result is titled "Discovering Poetry" and includes a thumbnail image of a book cover. The second result is titled "Jack Wilde's Poetry Lesson | Write in the Middle Workshop 3: Teaching Poetr..." and includes a thumbnail image of a workshop sign. At the bottom of the search results area, a blue "See More" button is highlighted with a red box, with a small red "2.4" next to it.

Click Subjects, Grades, or Standards to access browse options

The image shows the top navigation bar of the PBS LearningMedia website. The background is dark blue. On the left, there is a logo for PBS LearningMedia and the text 'PBS LearningMedia'. In the center, there are three menu items: 'Subjects', 'Grades', and 'Standards'. The 'Standards' menu item is highlighted with a red rectangular box, and a red arrow points to it from the right. To the right of the 'Standards' menu item, there is a small red icon with the number '11'. On the far right, there are links for 'Sign In/Up' and 'Students? Click Here'. Below the navigation bar, the main heading reads 'Bring the World to Your Classroom'. Underneath this heading, there is a sub-heading: 'WHUT and PBS have curated FREE, standards-aligned videos, interactives, lesson plans, and more for teachers like you.' At the bottom of the navigation bar, there is a search bar with the placeholder text 'Search classroom resources...' and a magnifying glass icon. The right side of the image shows a chalkboard with the words 'BACK SCHOOL' written on it, surrounded by various school supplies like paper clips, pens, and scissors.

- After clicking into an area of study, such as Mathematics, click one of the circles at the top of the page that further narrow the area of study (Figure 2.1).
- Use the filters to even further refine your results (Figure 2.2).
- Scroll down the page to view Collections, Resources, Videos, etc. (Figure 2.3).

The screenshot displays the 'Mathematics' section of the etv.org website. At the top, the word 'Mathematics' is written in a purple font, followed by the tagline 'Bring math concepts to life through interactive games, animations and engaging media resources.' Below this, a horizontal row of six circular icons represents different math levels: 'K-8 Mathematics' (with colorful blocks), 'High School Number & Quantity' (with a purple background and lines), 'High School Algebra' (with a large yellow 'X' on a black background), 'High School Functions' (with green leaves), 'High School Geometry' (with colorful triangles), and 'High School Statistics & Probability' (with a dark background and colorful dots). A red box labeled '2.1' highlights this row. Below the icons is a purple filter bar. On the left, it says 'Filter by' followed by three buttons: 'Grade' with a dropdown arrow, 'Type' with a dropdown arrow, and 'Clear Filters' with a trash icon. A red arrow points to the 'Clear Filters' button. On the right, it says 'Sort by' followed by a 'Relevance' dropdown menu. A red box labeled '2.2' highlights the filter buttons. Below the filter bar, the text 'Collections (119)' is shown next to a folder icon. Below this, several collection cards are visible, including one labeled 'Professional' in a teal box, one with the 'Cyberchase' logo, and one labeled 'STEM Resources Collection' in a yellow box. A red box labeled '2.3' highlights the 'Collections (119)' text and the first few collection cards.

Below this is the LearningWhy logo and a search bar with a magnifying glass icon and a 'BROWSE LESSONS' button with a grid icon. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column contains a 'LESSON DETAILS' sidebar with a 'Like' button showing 1 like. The sidebar includes fields for Grade (3), Subject (Social Studies), Topic (South Carolina's Role in the American Revolution), Subtopic (Perspectives of the Various Groups in South Carolina), and Recommended Technology (None needed, but computers/tablets and writing software can be incorporated into the lesson). It also lists 'Other instructional materials or notes' such as Graphic organizers, Resource/Trade books, Various objects to write about (black iron, quilt, etc.), and Historical Poems. Below the sidebar is a 'FEATURED LESSON OUTCOMES' section. The right column displays the lesson title '"Am I Really Free?"' with a 'SAVE THIS LESSON' button and download icons. It includes metadata for Duration (1-2 hours) and Lesson type (Traditional Lesson). The 'Lesson overview' states: 'How free were the free blacks? Life for free blacks was not all peaches and cream. Although some were able to prosper they were not counted as citizens. A few questions to consider are: Where did free Blacks live? What, if any, restrictions did they have?'. The 'Essential Question' is 'How free were the free blacks?'. Below this is a tabbed interface with 'Lesson' selected, and other tabs for 'Resources', 'Standards', and 'Assessments'. The 'Lesson Progression' section includes 'Guiding Questions' (Where did free Blacks live? What, if any, restrictions did they have?) and a list of bullet points explaining the lesson's focus on the life of free blacks during slavery, historical background, and student writing activities. A 'RESOURCES' sidebar on the right lists 'DENMARK VESEY | PALMETTO HERITAGE' and 'CONVERSATIONS ON SOUTH CAROLINA: THE STATE AND THE NEW NATION, 1783-1828: SLAVERY IN SOUTH CAROLINA (4): SOUTH CAROLINA'S SLAVE CODES'. Between the Waters: History Across the Curriculum at Hobcaw Barony, Series I

This innovative course provides engaging ways to integrate history using SCETV's immersive website Between the Waters. Series I walks participants through the site, guiding an exploration of Hobcaw Barony's history from Native American life through slavery, Reconstruction and both World Wars by examining focus sites on topics including food, hunting, sports, architecture, religion, art, and nature. Interviews with well-known scholars, archival film and photographs, nature footage, and classroom lesson plans provide a picture of the Baruch family's Hobcaw retreat that is a South Carolina treasure.

EdPuzzle

- Add your own voice narration and questions to create self-paced learning with interactive video lessons.
- Allows students to watch and engage with videos while the teacher gathers data throughout the lesson.

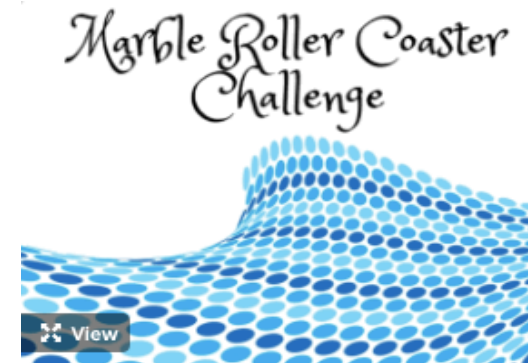

The screenshot displays the EdPuzzle interface. At the top, there are four buttons: "Crop Video" (highlighted in red), "Voiceover", "Audio Notes", and "Quizzes". The main video player shows a clock with the number 6 highlighted in red. Below the video, a progress bar is visible with a blue playhead and several green question mark icons. A "Continue" button is located at the bottom left of the video player. On the right side, a quiz question is displayed: "What hour is it?". Below the question is a text input field. At the bottom of the quiz area, there are "Edit" and "Delete" buttons. A message at the top of the quiz area reads "You cannot answer while creating a lesson".

Flipgrid

- Allows teachers to create "grids" to facilitate video discussions.
- Each grid is like a message board where teachers can pose questions, called "topics," and their students can post video responses that appear in a tiled grid display.

EquatIO

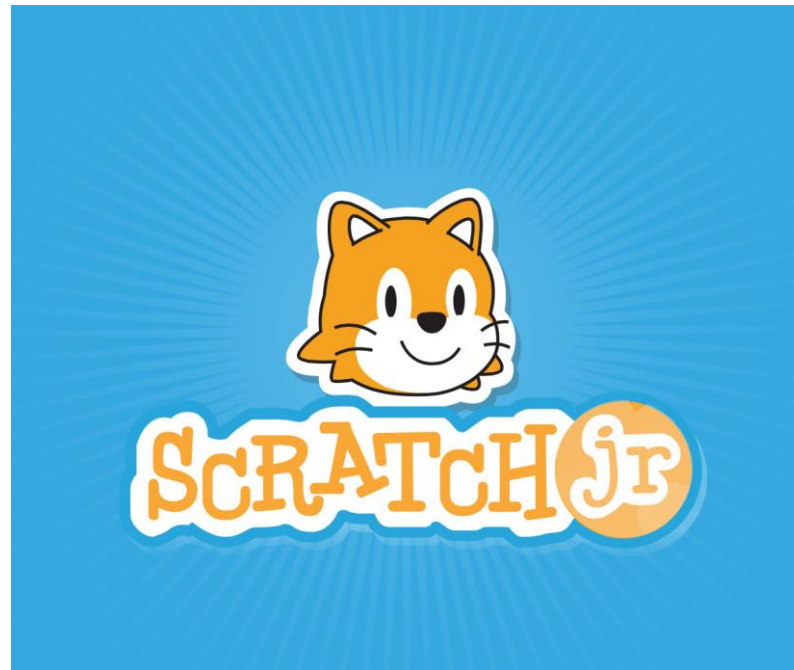

- Create math equations and symbols in Google Suite
- Allows for Speech to Text

The background of the image is a dense, overlapping collection of small, colorful sticky notes. Each note is a different color, including red, yellow, green, blue, pink, and light green. Every note has a large, black question mark printed on it. The notes are scattered across the entire frame, creating a vibrant and busy texture. A white diamond-shaped graphic is overlaid on the left side of the image, containing the text.
